

Zachary Ballard

Theatre, I mean what can I say? Theatre is my passion and my light. It gives me hope and it makes me feel like I am doing something amazing with my life. I can think of times when I finished a performance and people would go up to cast members, crew, directors, stage managers and myself and told us that we did an amazing performance. I see the beautiful smiles on their faces and know I helped make their lives that much better. Theatre is an escape from reality. There are people in that audience that failed their math final, are going through a divorce, are having financial issues or any life altering situation in any way or even just having a bad day. To know that I am helping them makes my life worth while. Yes the attention, limelight and praise is nice but that's not why I do it. I do it because it's fun, I do it because it is my passion, as well as I do it because it changes peoples' lives for the better. It has changed my life. I know I was put on this earth to do theatre - to channel my talents into the emotions of others. That's why I do it, and I cannot think of a better way to spend the rest of my life making the world a better place. That is why I do theatre and that is why I want to make a career out of it. Honestly I can't think of a better route to take.

In order to help others out with my talents. My main plan is be on Hollywood or Broadway. Wherever I need to be I will be there to serve others through my talents.